ALFRED'S QUOTES

After reading MAD for many years, I only recently noticed the quotes by Alfred E. Neuman under the title on the index page. And now, after going back over all my old copies and reading them, I find that those ridiculous statements sometimes make more sense than the rest of the magazine. My favorite was in the April, '63 (#78) issue: "If Communism is such a big success, why don't they put up a 'picture window' instead of an 'iron curtain'?"

Lou Delia

Hasbrouck Heights, N. J.

MAD SHOULD GROW UP

Whether you guys know it or not, you publish the foremost humor magazine in the country today. But your problem is that you think only teenagers read MAD, and you gear it to the "15-year-old mind." Because of this, a lot of trite material creeps in. However, a lot of older people read MAD. We here at the University of Illinois would like to see MAD "grow up"—that is, become a more adult humor magazine, like "Punch." This could be accomplished by using more controversial material. More subtle and biting satire would help. We are hoping that MAD will come of age. It is great now, but it could be tremendous and, what's more, gain legitimacy. Reading MAD could then be a sign of intellect and insight rather than cerebral rot.

DISTINGUISHING FEATURE

I wish to add my praise for your keen insight in pointing out the political and social follies of our modern society. That you receive letters reproving you for your satires shows that you are doing your job well. No idea, no political or other prominent figure, and no commercial interest should be above scrutiny. That we can criticize without fear of reprisal is one great feature that distinguishes us from a totalitarian country. When we can no longer do this, I'm moving out.

James Hinnersch

SAVING GREATS

My husband shares my feelings about MAD, and we both think that our children will appreciate our old issues someday—as an encyclopedia of the best in American humor and satire.

NUMBERS GAME

Your 3-63 issue (#85) was 1-derful. The article I enjoyed most was the 1 on pages 27, 28 and 29: "When They Use Numbers 4 Everything." It was just 2 gr-8 for words. It illustr-8-ed the crisis that we are falling in-2. The public 6 their dogs on postmen, so the Post Office Department 6 their zip code system on us. Nevertheless, I 1-der. Don't you think you exagger-8-ed a little 2 much?

POETIC INJUSTICE

Thanks to MAD's influence—ecch!—on the younger generation, I look forward to another year of weirdo compositions in my English classes. Thanks to MAD's influence on me, I am compelled to write this sickening MAD-type parody:

THE TIME I'VE LOST IN GRADING

*The time I've lost in grading
(A-walking and a-wading
In whacky streams
Of freshman themes)
Has caused my vision's fading.
Though Sleep has often sought me,
I've skipped the rest he's brought me.
My only dreams
Are MAD-wrought themes,
And folly's all they've taught me.*

SUB SUBTRIFUGE

Ever since reading the Saturday Evening Post article about your publication, I've wanted to subscribe. But my wife wouldn't let me. SIGNIFICANT MOVE

I have a potted plant named "Arthur" which has been growing in my bedroom for several years. Recently, it grew so big that it toppled over on me during the night. Does this have any significance?

Andy Kargacos
Mt. Prospect, Illinois

Obviously you've mis-named your plant, and "Arthur" should be "Martha"! Because she's fallen for you!—Ed.

MAD BEASTLIES

This concerns "MAD Beastlies" in issue #85. If congratulations is the right word, then congratulations to Phil Hahn and Paul Coker for a real fine job and a great new refreshing idea. I hope "MAD Beastlies" will be a regular feature in future issues of MAD. Phil and Paul make a beautiful team.

MISSED THE HORROR

In your latest issue, surrounding the title to "Mannie Get Your Ghoul," you had portraits of many famous horror characters and movie monsters. Except that one portrait wasn't of one of these, it was of Nick Adams as "The Rebel." I don't dig that.

Caroline Triplett
Sparta, North Carolina

Obviously you never saw Nick Adams as "The Rebel" on TV—because that was the worst horror of all!—Ed.

SPY VS. SPY VS. SPY

I think that the "Spy vs. Spy vs. Spy" series by Prohias are hilarious and a stroke of genius. So how come the woman always wins?

Richard S. Warner
Media, Pennsylvania

You know one that doesn't?—Ed.

HIDING THAT TRASH

In your latest annual, "MAD Follies," you had an insert bonus of "MAD Paperback Book Covers" with the instructions: "Hide that trash you are reading with dull intellectual titles." As you can see, that is exactly what I am doing in the enclosed picture—mainly pasting them on MAD Paperback Books.

UNFAMILIARITY BREEDS CONTEMPT

I don't see why some parents gripe about MAD. Evidently, they don't take the time to read it thoroughly. If they did, I'm sure they'd find it a lot more acceptable than some of the trash they read!

I recently read in a Cincinnati newspaper that Bill Abernathy, a senior and varsity basketball player for the University of Cincinnati, was seen reading a recent issue of MAD. Bill has a 3.8 average and is on the Dean's List at the University. Congratulations for warping another mind.

WHY NO MAD ADS ON TV?

Why don't you advertise MAD on TV? Won't the networks allow it?

Mark Bollhardt
Jersey City, N. J.

No, our pocketbook won't allow it!—Ed.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Why don't you give your characters more common names like "Fred" and "George" instead of those ridiculous names that no one could possibly have?

TOT A-OKAY DEPT.

In order to compete with television and bolster sagging box office receipts, the folks that make motion pictures began turning out a new kind of product: "The Adult Film". These films were called "Adult" because they dealt with adult life, they examined adult problems, and mainly, they were dirty! Which is all well and good for adults, but where does it leave the kids? After all, how many Disney movies about dogs can a young movie-goer take? In other words, what we at MAD are suggesting is that the movie makers continue to make their "Adult Films" with adult plots for adult audiences, but that they also cater to the younger movie fans by turning out

"DAYS OF RUNNIN' NOSES"—a Kid's Version of

"Days Of Wine And Roses"

How about you? Haven't you any vices?

Not really! I can take popcorn—or leave it! And I munch salted peanuts now and then—but only to be sociable! But I stay away from serious nosing—like potato chips!

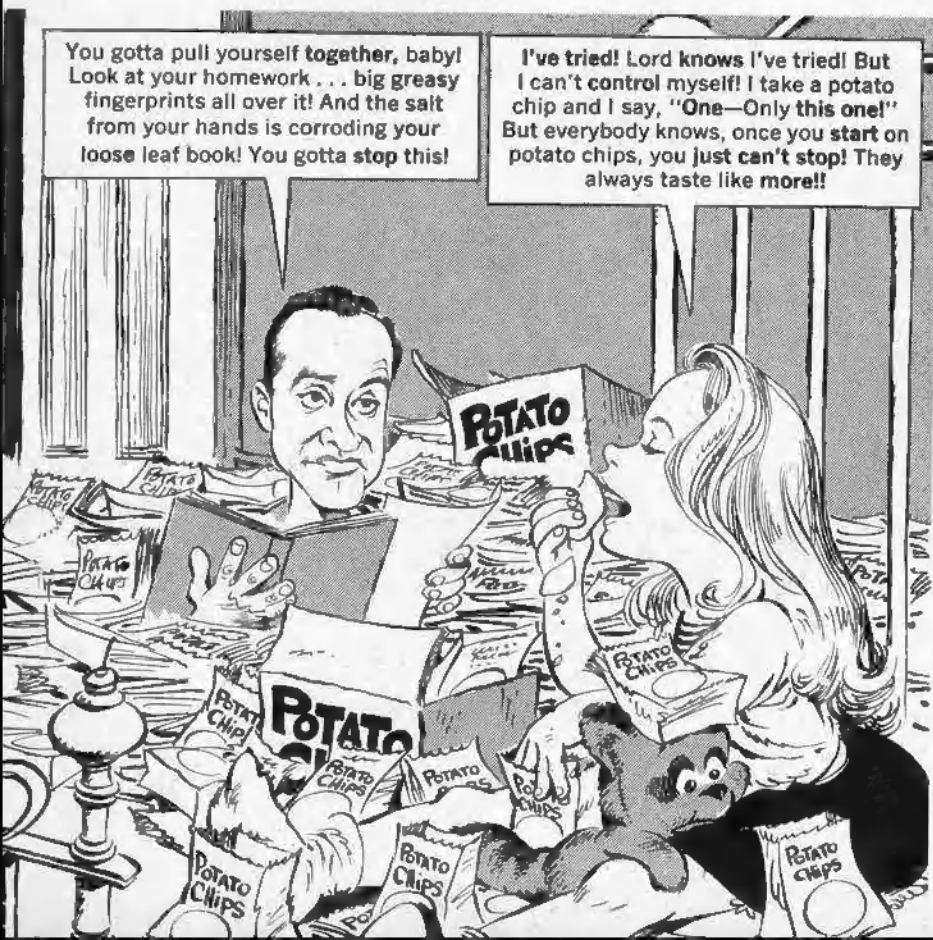

Aw, c'mon, baby! Live a little! Try one! You don't know what you're missing . . . !

Well . . . they do look crispy good! But only one . . .

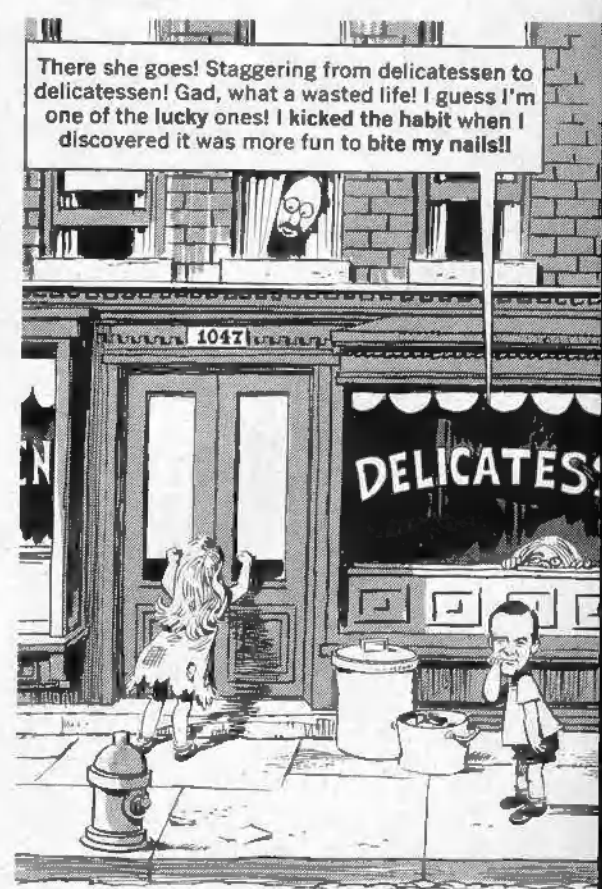

Weeee!! This is great! Hey, gimme a chance! Your hand is bigger than mine! No fair! WHOO-O-O-PEE!!

Boy, I never saw anyone fall so far so fast!

You gotta pull yourself together, baby! Look at your homework . . . big greasy fingerprints all over it! And the salt from your hands is corroding your loose leaf book! You gotta stop this!

I've tried! Lord knows I've tried! But I can't control myself! I take a potato chip and I say, "One—Only this one!" But everybody knows, once you start on potato chips, you just can't stop! They always taste like more!!

There she goes! Staggering from delicatessen to delicatessen! Gad, what a wasted life! I guess I'm one of the lucky ones! I kicked the habit when I discovered it was more fun to bite my nails!!

"THE YOUNG HUSTLER"—a Kid's Version of "The Hustler"

I'm the greatest stickball player on 95th Street! Now I'm ready to challenge the champ of 96th Street—the immortal "Chicken Fats"!

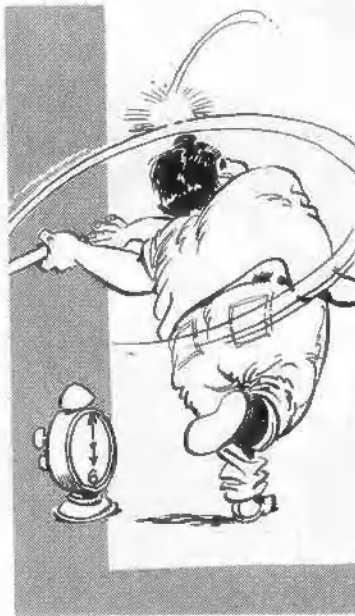

The kid has style, but he doesn't belong in the same gutter with you, Chicken!

Gee! An aluminum broomstick! That's CLASS!!

A "two-sewer" shot! How's that, Chicken?

Not bad! But I ain't in the O'Cedar "Hall of Fame" for nuttin'—

He's wonderful! Did you ever hear a more thrilling "ponk" than when he hit that ball?

You're a loser, kid! You'll always be a loser! You know why? Because it's more dramatic than being a winner!

We could make it together, Honey! I'm a girl with no past, present, or future! You see, I'm a loser, too!

So get lost!

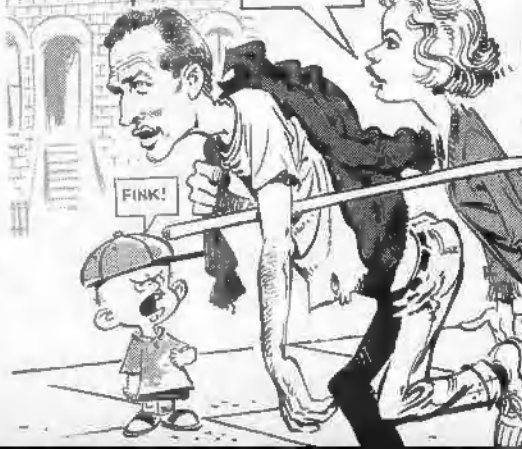

He's right! I am a loser! I can't go on this way! I gotta put an end to it!

You don't mean...

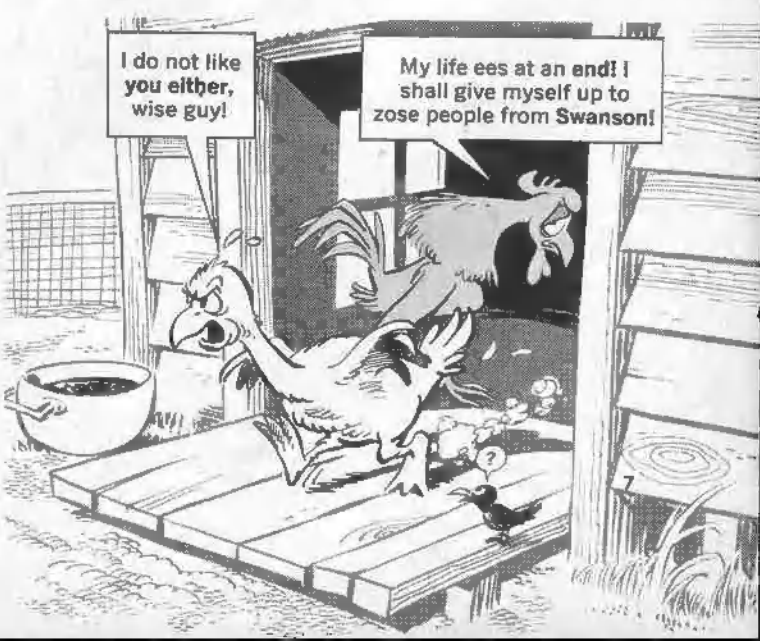

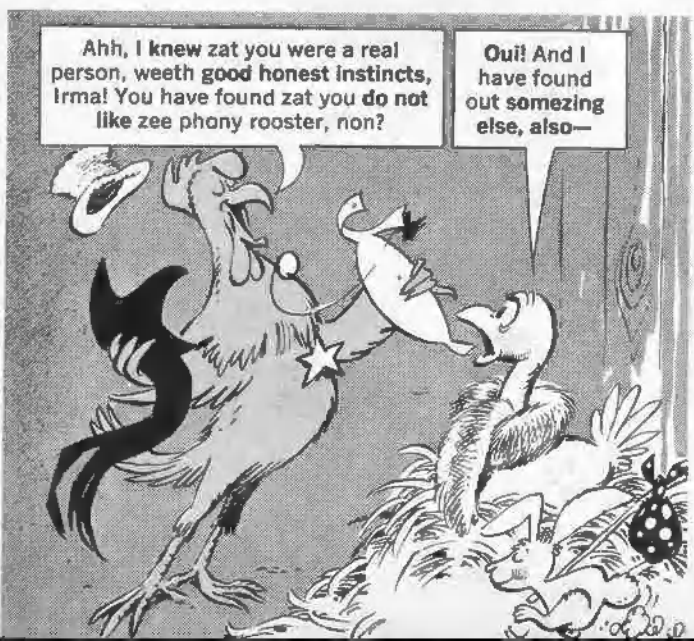

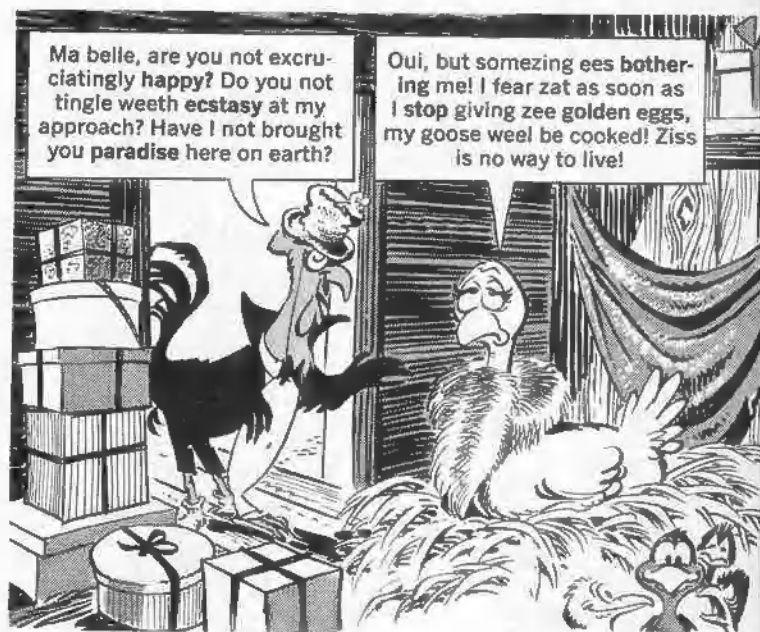

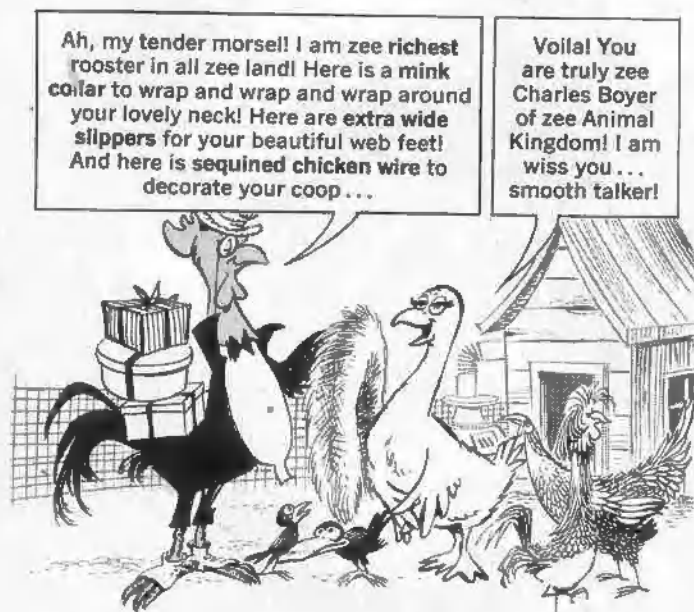

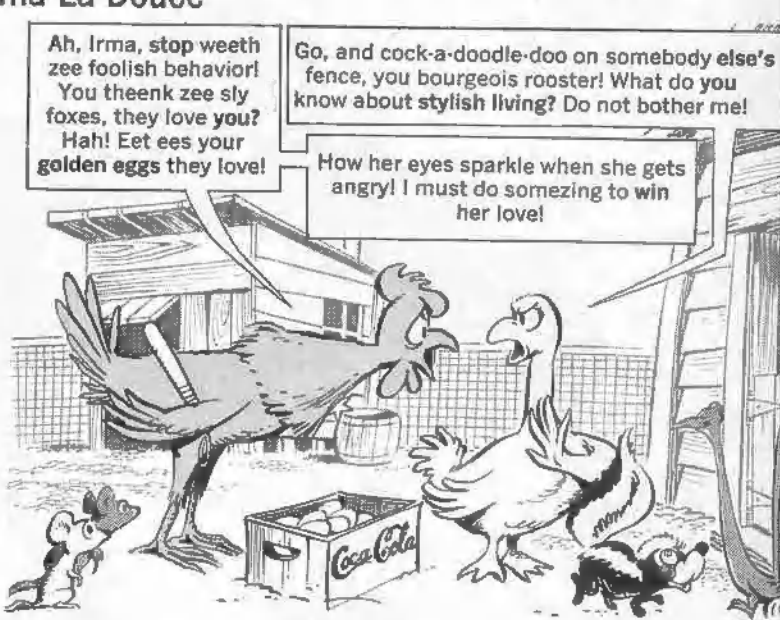

Yep! I'm gonna play stickball in heavy traffic!

What a horrible way to die!

Maybe I should become a Social Worker?

"IRMA LA GOOSE"—a Kid's Version of "Irma La Douce"

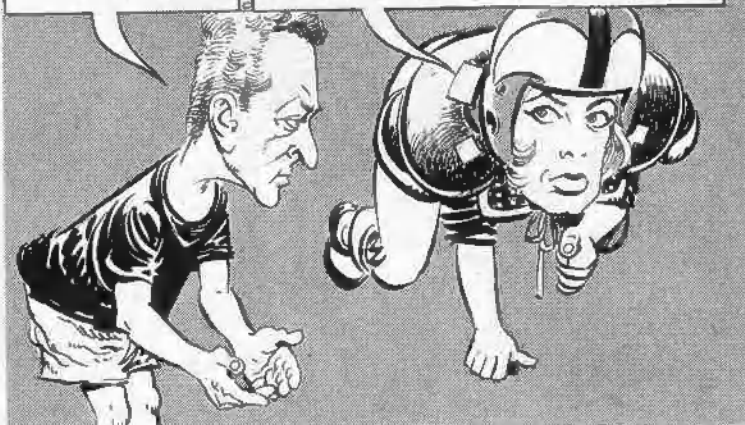

"NEVER ON SAT., SUN., OR HOLIDAYS"—a Kid's Version of "Never On Sunday"

Ah-ha! The "Buttonhook Pass," she always works against the 6-2-2-1 defense, no?

Such beauty! Such grace! Such a shame to waste it on unfeeling clods like Touch-Tackle Football Players! I must help her to elevate herself!

But a girl—playing Touch Football? You're not that kind—basically! I mean, don't you aspire to better things?

Ah-ha! My friend, you are strictly "Signals Off" with me! What better things are there than a perfectly executed pass pattern, or calling a draw play when the defense is "Red Dogging"? Not to mention throwing a downfield block on a bullvon! Life is good!

But you're a girl! You should be a Cheerleader! Now repeat after me: Boom-chicka-boom! Boom-chicka-boom! Boom-chicka-boom-chicka-boom-chicka-boom... What's the matter?

That poem has such exquisite sadness—such deep feeling! Tell me—the man who wrote it had a beautiful soul, no? Did he die young?

Oh, I'm so mixed up! I cannot tell a "Boom-Chick-Boom" from a "Locomotive"! And the pain when I keep hitting myself in the head with the baton is driving me crazy! I cannot be a Cheerleader! I cannot!

Stay with it! Try! Once you have tasted the finer things in life, you'll never be satisfied with less!

I must come back to the team! Please! I'll be happy to be a "Split End"—a "Safety Man"—even a "Corner Line-Backer"! Please—anything!!

Okay, goily! Come around tomorrow and we'll let you play!

Ah, you snake! You villain! You have tried to force your values on me—and look what has happened! I am the laughing stock! The boys, they trick me when they say I should come around this morning!

Why?

Because everyone knows the school yard is only open during the week—never on Saturdays, Sundays or Holidays!

"MONDO CANDY CANE"—a Kid's Version of "Mondo Cane"

Deep in the Amazon Rain Forest, the young people of the Mejarro Tribe look forward with eagerness to the annual event known as the "Calla Walla Bing Bang"...

In Kenya, young boys thrill to the "Hutsut Rahlistun Onde Rillahraw" ritual, in which fathers instruct them in the art of the hunt...

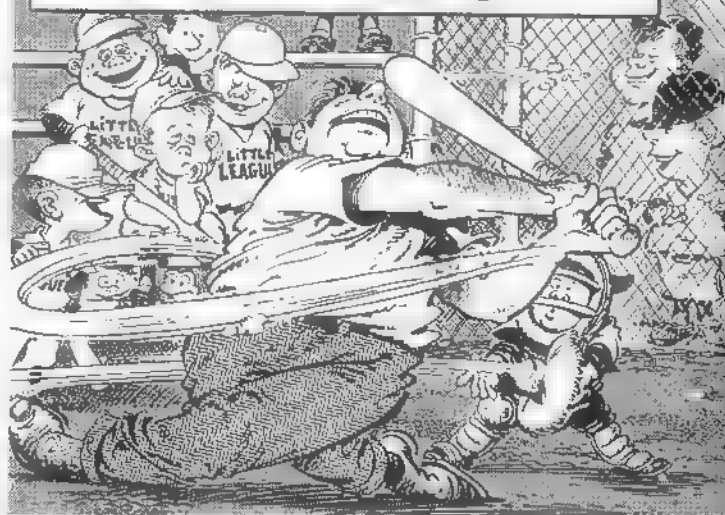

The Congo youngster learns very early in life what it means to be a Man in his society by watching his father perform the exciting "Flot Futt Flugee" ceremony...

While it is different in the United States of America, where the same kind of event is looked on in horror and loathing! Because the English translation of "Calla Walla Bing Bang" happens to be "Go Dance With Your Cousin!"

But here in the U.S.A., "Hutsut Rahlistun Onde Rillahraw" loosely translated means, "Let Your Old Man Show You!"—one of childhood's most nauseating rituals!

The American youngster also realizes very early in life what it means to be a Man in his society by watching his father perform. Because here, "Flot Futt Flugee" loosely translated means "Enjoy Your Mah Jong Game, Dear!"

It's bad enough to have to cough up our hard-earned dough each April to pay our Income Taxes without having to go through the additional drudgery of filling out a long involved Income Tax Return which is at best, dull, uninteresting and completely devoid of all human feeling. We at MAD feel that familiar Form 1040 evolved into the cold, drab, lifeless thing that it is because it was devised by fiscal experts, a group noted for its total lack of warmth and understanding. We feel that a new Form 1040, drawn up by a group more conscious of the emotions and feelings of people—mainly Psychiatrists—could make the annual filling out of a Return both entertaining and educational.  - A. I'm a lot smarter than anyone thinks I am, and I could really go places if I had just got that one big break that the knotheads who outrank me got ☐
 - B. I'm persecuted and everybody at the office is out to get me. I'm worth twice what I'm paid, but they've got it rigged so I'll never get ahead ☐
 - C. I refuse to lick the bosses' boots the way some people I could mention do. As a result, my diligence, talent, superior intelligence and potential go unrecognized ☐
4. If your answer on Line 2 above is "Less", tell why: (Check One of items below)
 - A. I'm rotten and no good clear through. I really don't deserve to be paid anything at all, no less what I get ☐
 - B. I don't have the brains to hold down a decent job, and I make as much as I do only because of ■ clerical error which has enabled me to receive someone else's paycheck each week. I've never pointed this out to the Accounting Dept., so I guess that makes me a crook, too ☐
 - C. I goofed off all year and hang onto my job only because I have a wonderful secretary who is willing to do all my work for me, and not snitch on me ☐
 - D. I was hired and put on the payroll in 1939, but I was never assigned to any job. So I spend all of my time at the Golf Course, except for about 20 minutes every payday when I drop by Dad's office for my check ☐

6. What is your attitude towards these dependents? (Check One of items below)
 - A. I guess my wife ■ okay, but only my secretary, with whom I work late at the office whenever I get the chance, really understands me ☐
 - B. My kids drive me out of my mind, but they're basically harmless. My wife, on the other hand, is trying to kill me and make it look like an accident ☐
 - C. I don't have any dependents at all because nobody, not even Mumsy and Daddy, has ever loved me ☐
 - D. I've got nothing against my dependents, really. I've just got lots more of them than I'd figured on ☐

8. What are your feelings about paying this tax? (Check One of items below)
 - A. I'm not going to pay it and I dare you to try and make me ☐
 - B. I wish I owed more. Then maybe I could get rid of these terrible guilt feelings that are eating me up ☐
 - C. You're just like everybody else — out to rob and cheat me out of what is rightfully mine ☐
 - D. Who cares!? Paying you only means I won't pay other bills, and the Finance Company will take away my refrigerator — only I never use it anyway because you don't have to keep booze on ice ☐

THE LIGHTER SIDE OF

HOME

WRITER & ARTIST: DAVID BERG

Gee, looka the big box!

Yeah! Let's drag it over to my lawn and make a playhouse out of it!

HEY! Those pesky Gruber kids took our crate and put ■ on their lawn!!

So!? Let them have the mess!

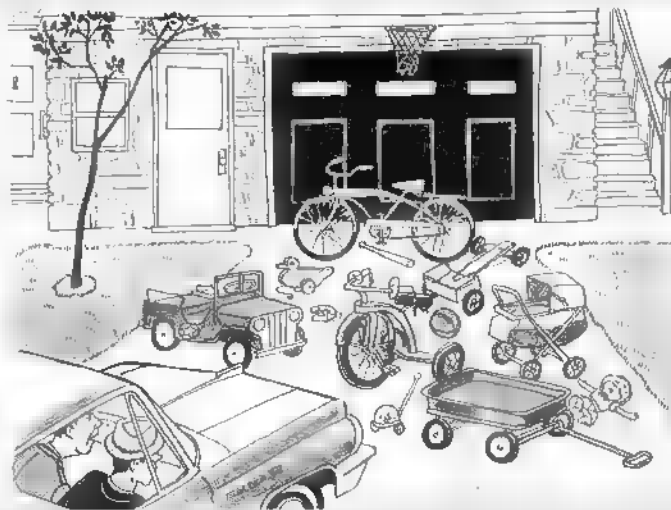

But now our neighbors are gonna say: "Boy, those Grubers are rich! They just got a brand new expensive color television set!"... and we'll have spent all that money for nothing!!

I just had one of those automatic garage door openers put in! You know how it works—you push this button in the car, and it sends out ■ radio signal which starts the machinery working and the garage door opens by itself!

It sure beats driving up to your garage, getting out of your car, and lifting—

It does, huh? I got news for you, buddy! You can get out of the car right now and start lifting...

Well, city slicker—how do you like the place?

Certainly is beautiful, Clyde! I was just admiring the collection of evergreens you've got planted around your house! I'll bet you've learned a lot about trees and shrubs by now!

I'll say I have! Brother—I am an expert!

Well, how about giving me ■ run-down on the different varieties of evergreens you've got?

Okay! This is a $9.50 evergreen—and this is a $17.95 evergreen—and this is a $7.00 evergreen...

I'll be a son of a gun!
The lawn sprinkler just went on ... by itself!

Yeah, I know! I had an automatic sprinkler system installed. It goes on by itself every day at 4 P.M. Now I don't have to worry about my lawn drying out!

Gee, that's great! Now all you have to worry about is your lawn WASHING out... because it's raining outside!

I swear, the whole house is falling apart! The faucet is leaking, the water heater is on the bum, and the light switch in the bedroom is busted! I wish to heck the repairman would come already! When we lived in an apartment house, all we did was call the "Super" when something broke!

The doorbell is ringing Mommy ...

Who
is it, Mommy?

It's the REPAIRMAN
at last!!

DADDY!!

What?! You're building a three-car garage? Say isn't that carrying the phony status bit a little too far? What in heck do you expect to keep in it?

What anybody would keep in a three-car garage!

Ah, come off it! I happen to know that all you've got is one car!

That's right! The other two car spaces are for all this junk ...

I must apologize for the bareness of our living room, but we're furnishing a little at a time and the necessities come first —like that grand piano!

Music must be in the very heartbeat of this family to make a grand piano
a necessity!

Not really! Actually none of us can even play the darn thing!
There was a more important reason for getting it than that!

We needed something impressive to put in front of our picture window! Something that would give us status in the new neighborhood! That's a necessity!

You want to see something ridiculous?
Take a look at the layout my nextdoor neighbor's got over there...

What's so ridiculous? He's got a swimming pool, a flagstone patio, a brick barbecue, a beautiful garden and magnificent lawn furniture! He's got outdoor summer living made!

I'll say he does! That's what's so ridiculous! He takes the family away to the mountains every year
... for the whole summer!

I think it's adorable the way you have a ceramic mother duck and her five little ceramic ducklings on your front lawn!

FIVE little ceramic ducklings?

GET OFF MY LAWN, YOU PHONY!!

Will you take a look at that darn neighbor of mine, always working on his lawn! He keeps rubbing it in how his lawn is so much nicer than mine! I hate him for it! I just can't stand the sight of him!

If you dislike him
that much, why don't you put up a ten-foot high spite fence?

I thought of that

But then I figured I could spite him even worse if I DIDN'T put up a spite fence...

... because all my
crab grass seeds blow onto his lawn!

There's one thing you have to say about this country! It sure is a land with a great many MODERN CONVENIENCES!

Yeah! It's also a land with a great many MODERN INCONVENIENCES!

Like PAYING for all them modern conveniences!!

PUFF, THE TRAGIC DRAGGIN' DEPT.

Manufacturers originally introduced filters on cigarettes for ladies who were squeamish about known side effects like nicotine stains on the teeth. Today, manufacturers are ballyhooing filters on cigarettes for people who are squeamish about known side effects like cancer of the lungs. And there's a lot of competition among these manufacturers as to whose filter does the better job. In fact, right now, we're witnessing

THE GREAT CIGARETTE FILTER TIP

WAR

ARTIST: BOB CLARKE

WRITER: AL JAFFEE

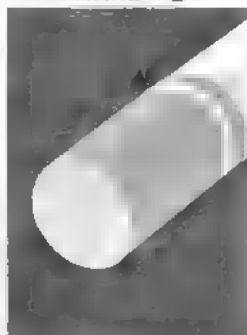

BATTLE CRIES OF MODERN FILTER CIGARETTES

BRAND "A"

Maker claims that his filter helps eliminate the common irritation: "Nicotine-stain mouth."

BRAND "B"

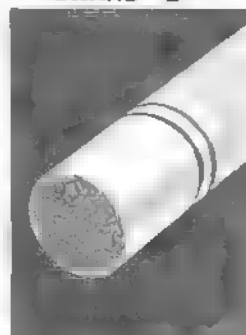

Maker claims that his filter helps eliminate the annoying condition: "Tar-and-resin throat."

BRAND "C"

Maker claims that his filter helps eliminate the sickening illness: "Inflamed esophagus."

BRAND "D"

Maker claims that his filter helps stop the disgusting affliction: "Laceration of lungs."

BRAND "X"

Maker claims that his going out of business helps stop them other awful smoking hazards.

Filter tip cigarette ads reveal one clear fact: there's a lot of terrible stuff in them cigarettes to filter out! But that's no more reason to give up smoking than for a pearl diver to give up diving — just because a few sharks are lurking around. The diver can depend on his trusty knife . . . and the smoker can depend on his trusty filter.

SOME HEALTH-SAVING FILTERS NOW IN USE

KENT'S MICRONITE FILTER

This filter claims to contain "balancing" mechanism which ingeniously measures correct amount of flavor and irritants it lets thru.

MARLBORO'S SELECTRATE FILTER

This filter claims to be a "selective" one — allowing the friendly smiling flavor to pass thru, and rejecting the anti-social irritants.

TAREYTON'S DUAL FILTER

This filter contains "dual" elements — a pure white unit working beside an activated charcoal one to deliver new integrated smoking pleasure.

LARK'S
3-PIECE KEITH FILTER

This filter, which contains 3 units — 1 charcoal granule unit between 2 regular pure white units — paves way for future filtration idiocies.

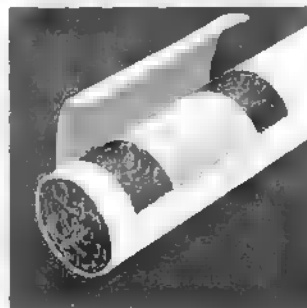

SOME HEALTH-SAVING FILTERS COMING SOON

MOCK FILTER

Inhaling lit filter is much worse than inhaling lit cigarette. This filter is "all tobacco" . . . for people who always light the wrong end.

SECRET FILTER

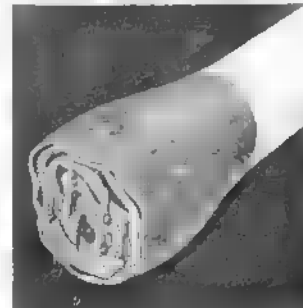

Since some he-men feel it's sissy to smoke a cigarette with a filter, this one is secretly hidden inside one end of a straight cigarette.

"LITMUS" FILTER

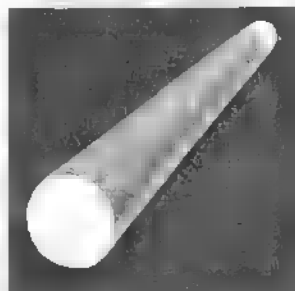

This filter changes color chemically, corresponding to changes in condition of throat and lungs, thus discourages excessive smoking.

SWELL FILTER

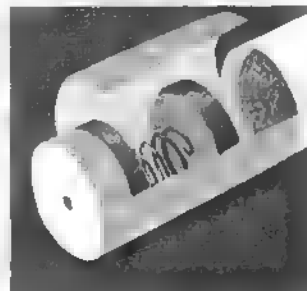

This ingenious filter uses highly absorbent blotting paper which swells up from smoker's saliva, clogs up cigarette end, stops smoke.

KING SIZE FILTER

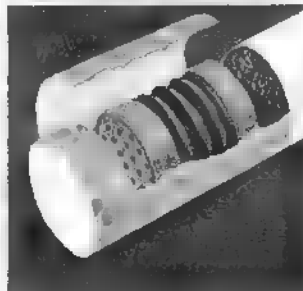

This new "King Size" filter is 90% effective because 90% of the cigarette is filter. This cuts out 90% of the hazards of smoking.

EXPEL-O-FILTER

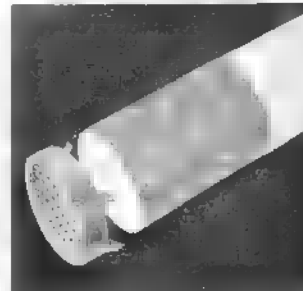

Inhaling brings the smoke into this new filter where its spring-powered plunger pushes it right back out — and no smoke is good smoke!

NOISE-MAKER FILTER

Inhaling on this new filter causes pitiful wheezing and gasping effect like victim of asthma produces—a sound way to cut down on smoking.

FILTER FILTER

This new filter filters out the harsh irritants usually found in filters. Snaps on easily—paves way for most idiotic filtration idea yet.

ADD-A-FILTER CIGARETTES

AN IDEA FOR ENDING THE GREAT FILTER-TIP WAR

The "Add-a-Filter Cigarette" makes all other filter-tip cigarettes obsolete. Not only does it protect the flavor, your health, and the American way of life . . . but it adds even more! Mainly another page to this ridiculous article.

Seriously, an "Add-a-Filter Cigarette" not only protects, it medicates. Each filter contains an atomized extract of a drug which is then gently wafted through the smoker's innards to form a protective film over his vital organs.

WHAT IS "ADD-A-FILTER"?

"Add-a-Filter" filter tips are threaded — male at one end, female at the other — so that one or more can be combined.

"Add-a-Filter Cigarette" has threaded end to accommodate one — two — or any amount of custom-selected filter tips.

HOW "ADD-A-FILTER" WORKS

Smoke travels through combination of filters, picks up medications, spreads blessed relief, heals deteriorating tissues, membranes, and other (yecch) things like that.

"ADD-A-FILTERS" AVAILABLE

Penicillin	Cortisone	Neo Syneprhine
Dramamine	Listerine	Absorbine
Bakedbean	Fluoristan	Krebiozen
Aureomycin	Tetramycin	Lanvinsmycin
Metrecal	Nair	Silicare
G.L.-70	Midol	Miltown
Turns	Vicks	Menthol

Above is partial list of "Add-a-Filters" available which treat every internal organ of body affected by smoking. Remember, smoke travels medicine further — and it is mild.

"ADD-A-FILTER CIGARETTE" IN USE...

Smoker of "Add-a-Filter" is completely relaxed, secure in the knowledge that not only are disease-causing irritants being filtered OUT, but his minimum daily requirement of every medication known to science is being filtered IN!

Hello, Doc, this is Harry Aukwel!! I just got hit on the head by a falling piano which knocked me into the gutter where I was run over by a truck, and when they carried me into my building they accidentally dropped me down the elevator shaft!

Uh-huh! Uh-huh... Mmmmmmm... Hu-huh... Hmmmmmm...

I got a fractured skull, 2 broken legs, 18 smashed ribs and a sprained clavicle!

I see! And how long have you been feeling this way?

Since the accident—about 3 minutes ago! Look, Doc—my head is splitting, my ribs are killing me, I'm all bloody, and a bone from my leg is sticking in my ear!

I see! Uh-huh! Yes... well, do you have any temperature?

Temperature?! I can't even open my mouth to put a thermometer in! Can't you hear the way I'm talking through clenched teeth? You gotta help me! Tell me what to do!

Drink plenty of liquids and stay off your feet as much as possible!

Stay off my feet?! That's brilliant advice for a man with two broken legs!

Thank heavens the line was free! Now listen carefully! This is very important!

Jimmy and Judy are both in bed, sound asleep, dreaming wonderful dreams!

Huh? Oh, that's fine, Linda, but this doesn't concern the children...

It's so heart-warming to see the smiles on their sweet little faces as they drift through slumberland in the security of their safe little home!

That's fine! Now forget the children for a minute and listen carefully...

They both said their prayers before bed, and they miss you very much!

NEVER MIND THE CHILDREN! There's something you MUST DO IMMEDIATELY!!

I've followed all of your instructions perfectly, so you needn't worry!

That's all well and good, but there's something I FORGOT to tell you! Now—when you get off the phone, go down to the basement and turn the large knob on the hot water heater all the way to the left! Understand? To the left...

Rest assured that I always treat other people's homes as if they were my own!

I'm sure you do, Linda! Now don't forget! Turn the large knob all the way to the left! It's very important that you do this as soon as you hang up...

You can be sure that little Jimmy and Judy are in capable hands!

LINDA! Haven't you heard a word I've said? You MUST take care of the heater or else it will overheat and burst and we'll have a terrible flood and everything in the basement will be ruined and we're NOT INSURED!

Hello! Sidney Schermerhorn speaking . . .

Sidney? This is your Mother! You probably don't remember me . . . it's been so long since you bothered to pick up a phone and call me . . .

Hi, Mom! You know, I was just sitting down to call you when the phone rang! Isn't that a coincidence? How's Pop? And how are you feeling? I miss you!

YOU . . . miss ME? Hah! That's a good one! I could be dead for all you care! Do you know who you are? MY SON, THE MURDERER! That's who you are! Oh . . . my heart! No, don't call a doctor! Let me suffer! It's my only pleasure!

You sound great, Mom! I'm glad you're feeling well! I'm feeling fine, too! I go to sleep at 10 o'clock, I drink plenty of milk, and I'm looking for a nice girl!

Nice girl, hah! There isn't a girl on earth you think is good enough for you! Listen, Mr. Richard Burton, what's wrong with my friend Stella's daughter, Muriel?

I change my socks every day, I look both ways before I cross the street, I drive carefully, I save my money, and I keep away from strange dogs . . .

Dogs-schmogs! So Muriel isn't so beautiful! So looks aren't everything!

Listen, Mom, if I'm in the neighborhood, I'll drop in! I won't be a stranger . . .

Marry Muriel and I GUARANTEE you won't be a stranger! I'll move in on you!

I can't get over how well you sound, Mom! Take care of yourself . . .

Sidney, you should only suffer the way I suffer! But if you ever do, don't come to me for sympathy because I don't care what happens to you! You hear me? . . .

That's swell, Mom! I'm glad to hear it! Well, I'll be seeing you soon . . .

When? WHEN? I'll bet you haven't eaten properly since you left home! I'll bet you're all skin and bone! Shall I send you some chicken soup with rye bread? Can you use some water? I'll make it just the way you used to like it . . .

Goodbye, Mom!

All right! I'll make you a dinner for your birthday next August 14th! What do you think you'll like to eat? There's no rush! You can call me tomorrow and tell me!

Okay! Goodbye, Mom!

Look, when you come over on August 14th, dress warm and wear your rubbers!

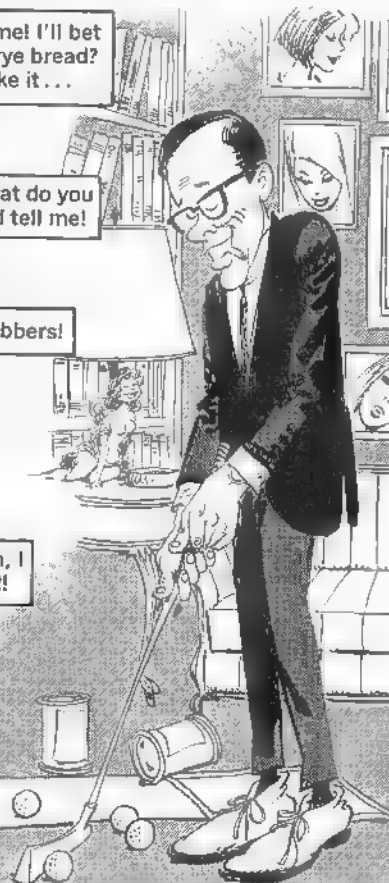

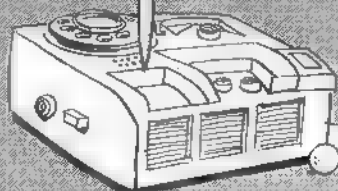

Okay, Mom! Goodbye!

But if it's raining, Sydney—or even if it's cloudy—wear your galoshes!

Okay! Goodbye!

Stop whatever you're doing and look around you. Now tell us the truth—do you see any happy, smiling faces? Of course not! Today, everybody walks around with a scowl or a frown. In short, today people are angry. But they're not allowed to express their anger! Society disapproves of screaming and raving and ranting and kicking the feet! So people are forced to hold themselves back, and let out their anger in more acceptable ways—like bowling, or watching prize fights, or joining the Cosa Nostra. And that's the trouble with the world today. MAD feels that if people want to get angry, they should be encouraged to get angry. One way to do this is to glamorize "Anger" the way we glamorize "Hot Rods" or "Movie Stars", with fan magazines! So here we go with our version of the magazine devoted to the elimination of ulcers, high blood pressure and heart attacks.

This Month's Editorial

A NOTE FROM THE PUBLISHER

ANGRY Magazine's Editor became so angry while writing this month's editorial that he jammed a pencil into his hand and couldn't finish it. His editorial, therefore, will appear in next month's issue if the infection doesn't spread. And if it does, it'll serve him right, the dumb clutz! Anyway, in place of the editorial, we offer the following letter, which was the best one to cross our desk this month. Actually it was the only one to cross our desk this month! Why don't you lazy slob get off your big fat butts and start writing some letters!

Dear Editor:

If there's anything I can't stand it's a guy who gets pushed around and doesn't get angry! Boy!! For instance, last Wednesday in the subway, this guy was getting pushed around by a nasty subway attendant. First the attendant poked him ■ couple of shots with a rolled up newspaper. Did this guy get sore? No! Then, the attendant kicked this guy into the doorway of the crowded subway car. What did the guy do? He smiled gratefully! And when the doors shut on this poor schnook's head, and the attendant rammed his fist into the guy's face and pushed him inside the car, did this guy get angry? Think he started ■ fight? Not on your life! He actually thanked the attendant for getting him in! Guys like that can drive you crazy! They shouldn't be allowed to ride subways! They should be locked up and the key thrown away!

ANGRY'S
"Angry Story Of The Month"

"I Am A Sit-In At My Local Drive-In"

by Melvin Loomis as told to H. R. Herford

IT ALL STARTED the day my wife started bugging me at breakfast about a new picture they were showing at our local drive-in. "So, go!" I said. "I'm stopping you?"

"But the name of the picture is 'It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World!'" she snarled, pouring hot coffee over my wrist.

I stopped hitting the kids and listened with interest. At last, here was my kind of picture. A film by a dedicated man like Stanley Kramer showing people mad, mad, mad, mad. Now I've been angry ever since I've been old enough to kick a cat, but I've never seen a movie yet that dealt honestly with the controversial subject of raw anger. Oh, sure, I've seen Humphrey Bogart get mad, I've seen James Cagney get mad, and I've occasionally thrilled to Burt Lancaster baring his teeth—but all these pictures ended happily and I was left in a state of unrestrained fury. Here, now, was a picture I was really going to enjoy!

That night, we rushed to the drive-in, cutting off a few drivers on the way. After honking my horn furiously for the picture to start, it happened:

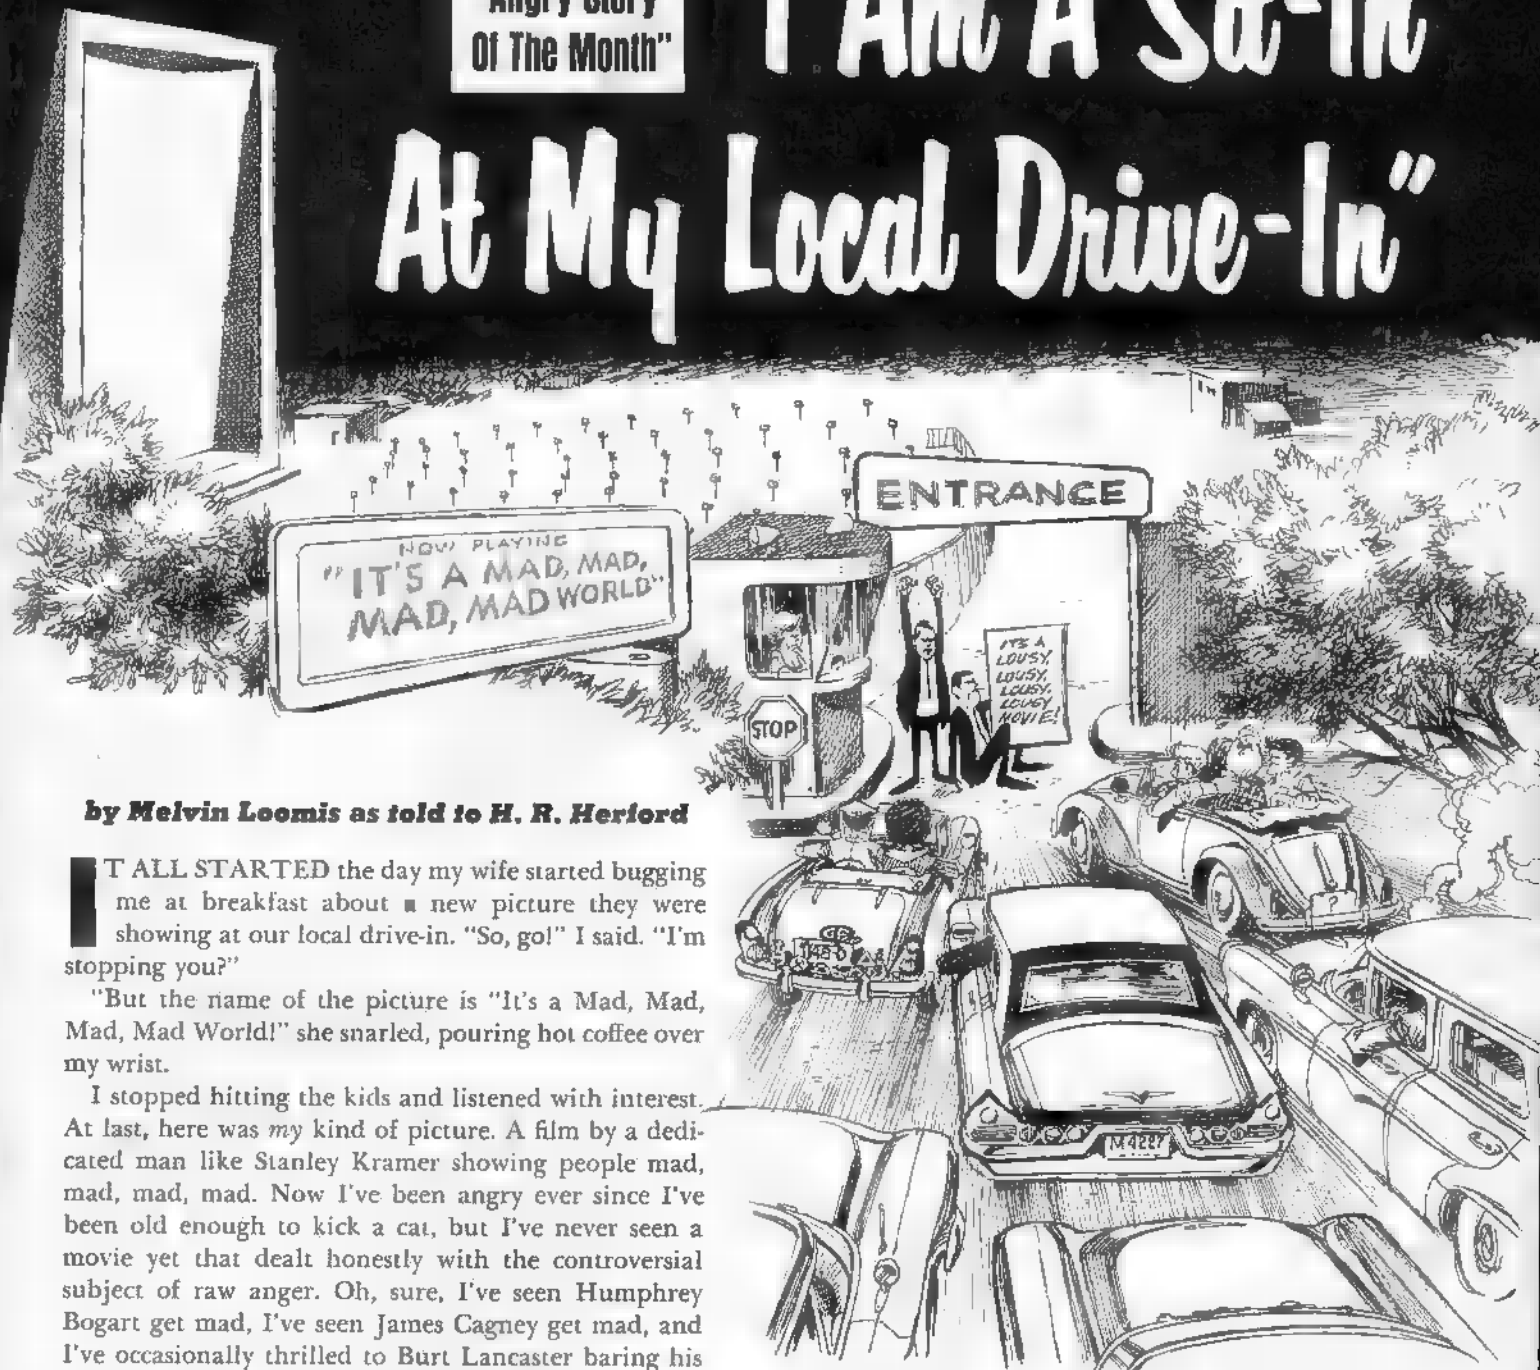

I gasped in disbelief when I heard the happy theme music! I recoiled in horror when I saw the colorful title! I had a seizure when I read the cast! There was no doubt about it! "It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World" was a comedy, comedy, comedy, comedy!

I started my car, squealed my tires as loud as I could, ground my gears, and raced around the drive-in for a full 20 minutes until they blocked me off and guided me out. Then I rushed home. In a fit of fury, I wrote a nasty letter to my Congressman (which was forwarded to him in Paris), but nothing happened. I next called the Federal Communications Commission to protest, but they transferred my call to the Bureau of Indian Affairs. That, I felt, was a brush-off, and I was not going to take this thing lying down. So I decided to sit down!

Yes, they can throw me in jail, they can threaten my family, Stanley Kramer can send his army of Hollywood goons to beat me up (Oh, he's got them!), but I'll never give up! I'll sit here until they change the fraudulent title of that disgusting picture if it takes all Winter! (Am I dictating too fast for you, Doctor?) And what's Dip your pen in sunshine and write to Leonard Feimster. Len got sore at all the effort required to take pins out of new shirts, and decided to put on his new shirt without taking any pins out. He's healing nicely, thank you . . . Splittsville Special: Art and Cynthia Bile have called it quits. Seems that Art's car was blocked downtown by a double parker for twenty minutes, and it turned out that the car that was blocking Art belonged to his wife. The only obstacle in the way of a final settlement is the battle over custody of the children. Both demand the other take the brats.

Kudos for Babette Klontz. She was the only member of the Ed Sullivan Show audience who booed instead of applauding when Regis Toomey did his clumsy Irish step dance . . . If you shake hands with Sanford Reiber, don't be surprised if they're soaking wet. Sandy is protesting those tedious time-wasting hot-air-hand-dryers in public washrooms. We're with you, Sandy! . . . Bail Bond money is now being solicited from all ANGRY readers for the "Lenny Bung Defense Fund". Lenny, you will recall, savagely attacked a luncheonette counterwoman when his sunnyside up eggs came with their yolks broken. We contend it was justifiable homicide . . . Congrats to Paul Renfield, who said goodbye to his friend of 27 years by busting him in the mouth. Seems that Paul was drinking a coke, when his friend said, "Save me a little at the end!"

The murder at the smart East Side Gin Rummy Club has been solved. The hero is Irving Druid, who knifed Harvey Heathkit when Harvey got "gin", laid down his cards, and asked sarcastically, "What's the name of the game?" . . . Hats off to the four guys who tipped over the newsstand at Main and Fourth when they discovered the sports sections missing from their Sunday papers . . . Schoolgirl Pat Warton is looking for the person who sold her a Spanish Textbook with the wrong translations pencilled in. When you find him, let him have one for us, Pat . . . Cheers to Garry Mishkin who dumped his friend, Fred Herts, from his speeding car on the Jersey Turnpike. Seems that Garry let go when Fred feigned being asleep for the fourth time as they reached a toll booth . . . Best Tip of the Month: Mel Keester's suggestion on what to do when people stare at you on the bus. "Pick your nose!" advises Mel.

Hats off to Herman Gleek who rammed his car into the one he was following last week when it went seventeen blocks with its directional signal flashing, and never made a turn . . . Congrats to Oscar Rubble who belted a guy in a barber shop after waiting thirty-five minutes for him to finish having his hair cut, only to watch him suddenly decide to have a shave, too! We know the feeling, Oscar . . . Here are more suggestions for golden opportunities to blow your top: Zip tapes that break before the package of cigarettes is fully open . . . Shoelaces that break while you're tying them . . . Salesgirls who start waiting on you, and then go off on coffee breaks . . . But don't get me wrong, I'm still angry!

ANGRY'S "Pet Hate Of The Month"

Each issue, the editors of ANGRY select a "Pet Hate" upon which you can release all your pent-up anger. In future issues, we will invite you to vent your wrath on such infuriating subjects as Durward Kirby, Howard Johnson Restaurants, Doris Day's Freckles, Pay Toilets, and Mother's Day Cards. This month, let's all get good and sore at . . .

The Gypsies

GYPSIES are getting away with murder! Look at them--singing, dancing, loving, blighting the landscape with sickening happiness! Do you want your children exposed to these carefree influences that rob them of their greatest possession: Anger?

Well, what are you going to do about it? Right now, there are 625 known Gypsies in the U.S.A., and they are increasing at the alarming rate of 22 per year! Just stop and think about this: If they continue their menacing growth rate (and we stop), by July 8, 3964, they will outnumber us! We must act now to stop this Gypsy population explosion! Are we alarmists? Well, how would you like to wake up one morning in July, 3964, and find that you are "The Pet Hate Of The Month" in some Gypsy Magazine? Not a pretty thought, is it?

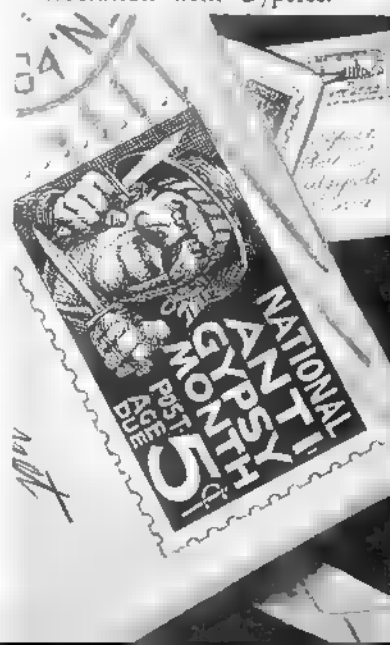

To meet this threat, ANGRY Magazine has set aside June as "National Anti-Gypsy Month." All ANGRY readers will be encouraged to tell Gypsy jokes, smash Hungarian records, and picket Ilona Massey movies. In addition, to popularize our ANGRY cause, we plan the following campaign:

Day-Glo auto stickers will carry our messages of hate directly to the Gypsy population centers . . . wherever they happen to be that day.

Children will participate in a door-to-door campaign selling cookies with anti-gypsy messages inside. This will give people something to sink their teeth into.

A contest will be held to select "Miss Anti-Gypsy." She will be chosen not only for her figure but for her angry expression. She will make personal appearances on the Late Late Show.

Our paid lobbyists in Washington, D. C. will persuade the Post Office Department to issue a special "Anti-Gypsy Commemorative Stamp." The glue will taste rotten, giving people an angrier association with Gypsies.

An eloquent example of the adage "big anger always comes in small packages", Mr. Rooney has been teed off for most of his 45 years. While coming to our office, he had to be restrained from belting the elevator man in the mouth because he thought he was a policeman.

WALTER REUTHER

To make sure that Mr. Reuther would be in the proper frame of mind for the discussion, we told him it would be a Collective Bargaining session. Mr. Reuther is on the phone ordering ■ picket line around Mr. Rooney for abusing ■ Union Elevator Operator.

THE ANGRY PANEL

A Provocative Discussion

ANGRY MODERATOR: All right, you guys, knock it off! Look, this ain't my idea, you know! I don't like it any more than you do, but I don't make the rules! I just work here! I'm not paid to think! This stupid boss of mine . . .

GOLDWATER: Why don't you shut up? If there's anything that gets me sore, it's a guy who knocks management! It only proves what I've been saying: We're turning into a nation of cry babies!

REUTHER: You calling the workers of America cry babies? You know something, I don't like your attitude! And you know something else? I don't like your face!

ROONEY: You should talk! Pushing big corporations around just because you're bigger! Boy, if you were my size . . .

REUTHER: I was—when I was six!

ROONEY: Wanna get hit with a chair or something?

ROGERS: Anyone want a cauliflower ear?

GOLDWATER: Stop it! You're all acting like animals! Can't we settle our differences with simple back-biting, vicious innuendoes and religious slurs?

REUTHER: Don't get so high-and-mighty, you robber baron—you exploiter of the little man—

ROONEY: Nobody's exploiting me, buster!

ROGERS: Aw, your mother wears sweat socks!

GOLDWATER: Hah! See? What did I tell you? First someone feels free to attack Capitalism, and the next thing you know they're attacking Motherhood! No wonder we're losing the Space Race!

REUTHER: If you're so fond of space, how'd you like a quick trip to the moon via the knuckles rocket?

ROONEY: Bullies! Bullies! You're all bullies!

ROGERS: Stand up and say that, pipsqueak!

ROONEY: I am standing up, you big ox!

ROGERS: I ain't Big Ox! He's my partner in the Tag Team Matches!

ANGRY MODERATOR: Fellows! Fellows . . . Oh, what do I care! Go ahead! Beat each other's brains out . . .

"NATURE BOY" BUDDY ROGERS & SENATOR BARRY GOLDWATER

These two members of the Angry panel arrived early, and began their own discussion. On top with ■ brilliant leg lock is Sen. Goldwater, who is ■ fine wrestler, having held Old Father Time to a draw on many occasions. Mr.

Rogers, on the bottom, is a professional wrestling champion every other week, and recently was presented with TV's coveted "Emmy Award" for "Most Consecutive Refusals To Shake Hands With An Opponent In A Comedy Series".

THE NOSY PHOTOGRAPHER

by Emile "Flash" Titzlaff

QUESTION: What made you angry in the past week?

(Asked on a crowded bus during rush hour)

MRS. SELMA RATFINK
Neurotic Housewife

My kid, that's what. Last Tuesday I looked out the window and saw the dumb brat playing right in the middle of the street! I ran down and grabbed him just as a car came along. I dragged him up five flights of stairs, I banged his head against the wall, I beat him with a belt, and I socked him with a baseball bat. Then, when my husband came home from work, he took his turn. When will kids learn that they can get hurt playing in traffic?

MR. OSCAR LAHR
Tough Longshoreman

I'm still mad! I puts a penny inna gum machine dis morning, and nuttin' comes out. So I gives de mechanism a couple of taps of encouragement. An' still nuttin' happens. So I gives it de flat of my hand. Still nuttin'. So I gives it a real belt. Y' know what I mean? Like, pow! De glass breaks, an' blood is suddenly squirtin' all over de place. My blood! I runs to de doctor an' he sews it up for twenny five dollars. Den he tells me I'm too high-strung—dat I should relax by cuttin' down in my smoking. He tells me I should try chewin' gum instead!

MRS. ARTHUR REGO-PARK
Old Married Woman

Dinah Shore! When she finished her TV Special the other night, she threw a kiss at my husband Arthur. I was in the same room with him, and I saw her! Well, it just so happens I'm a George Montgomery fan, and the idea of that woman trying to get intimate with my husband is just too much. I never allowed my successful career as Treasurer of the Golden Age Girls to interfere with my marriage. If I could stay married to a clod like Arthur, she certainly could have stayed married to that wonderful George Montgomery!

MR. ERSKINE BILGE
Typical Accountant

Boy, did my neighbor make me mad this past week! He's got this big dog, see . . . and he walks him in front of my house. He doesn't even curb the lousy mutt! And I always find out when he's been along the hard way! Which is bad enough, except when he sees me walking along scraping my foot on the sidewalk, he always laughs and says, "Hi, Chester! How's Marshall Dillon?" Ooooh! He makes me so mad, I could spit. In fact, I think I will. Pttew! Oh, I'm sorry! I didn't see your shoe!

MR. EUGENE POTNIK
Man of Limited Tastes

You know what made me mad this past week? The same thing that makes me mad every time I go into a restaurant. The waiter who tells me, "Sorry, no substitutions!" I mean, so I can't stand broccoli, asparagus, or rhubarb! So shoot me! All I ask is a simple favor. When the menu says: "Chopped Steak, Mashed Potatoes and Broccoli"—all I want is they should substitute Corn, or Carrots or Peas for the Broccoli. But no! There's always a waiter who sneers, "Sorry, no substitutions!" Boy, does that make me feel like blowing my stack! But I always get even. When it comes time to leave a tip, I hand him a dime—then I do a double take. I look at it, shrug my shoulders and say, "Gee, I meant to give you a buck! I must've made a mistake! But sorry, no substitutions!"

MR. BILL NIBLICK
Unemployed Bully

Hah? Wha—? Hey, Buddy, you know me? I'm an old friend of yours or something? Then who do you think you are, asking me a lot of personal questions! Get lost! Huh? Oh, yeah? Well take this, you punk . . .

 NIXING IDEA WAS BEST FOR PARTY'S CHANCES TO BEAT JOHNSON

Time and time again, he has insisted to the Press that he is absolutely positively not interested in becoming involved in any inter-party mudslinging. So says Barry, refusing to meet and debate with Rocky. He feels such a debate would tend to expose weakness in the Republican Party, and hurt either of their chances of becoming President. However, people close to him—who know him intimately — claim that this is far from the real truth!

What have we got against colds?

Absolutely nothing! We love 'em!

We manufacture capsules that have these tiny red "time pills" which stop sniffles and runny nose.

They also have yellow and white "time pills" which stop sneezing and gagging and choking and yecching.

These "time pills" don't actually cure the cold — they just suppress the symptoms so you feel good.

That's how we move plenty of these capsules. You go around spreading cold germs instead of staying in bed.

CONTACT ALL DAY / ALL NIGHT GERM SPREADING

We call this a "Time Capsule" because it gives you time to spread the cold.

1 CAPSULE EVERY 12 HOURS will do nothing for you, but plenty for us. Because the more colds, the more capsules we'll move. Personal contact is needed to spread colds, but who's gonna be stupid enough to go near someone slobbering with a juicy cold? Nobody! That's why we created this tricky capsule. It makes colds seem to disappear—so
